GARNETEER

*Come gather round people
Wherever you roam
And admit that the waters
Around you have grown
And accept it that soon
You'll be drenched to the bone
If your time to you is worth savin'
Then you better start swimmin'
Or you'll sink like a stone
For the times are a'changin'.*

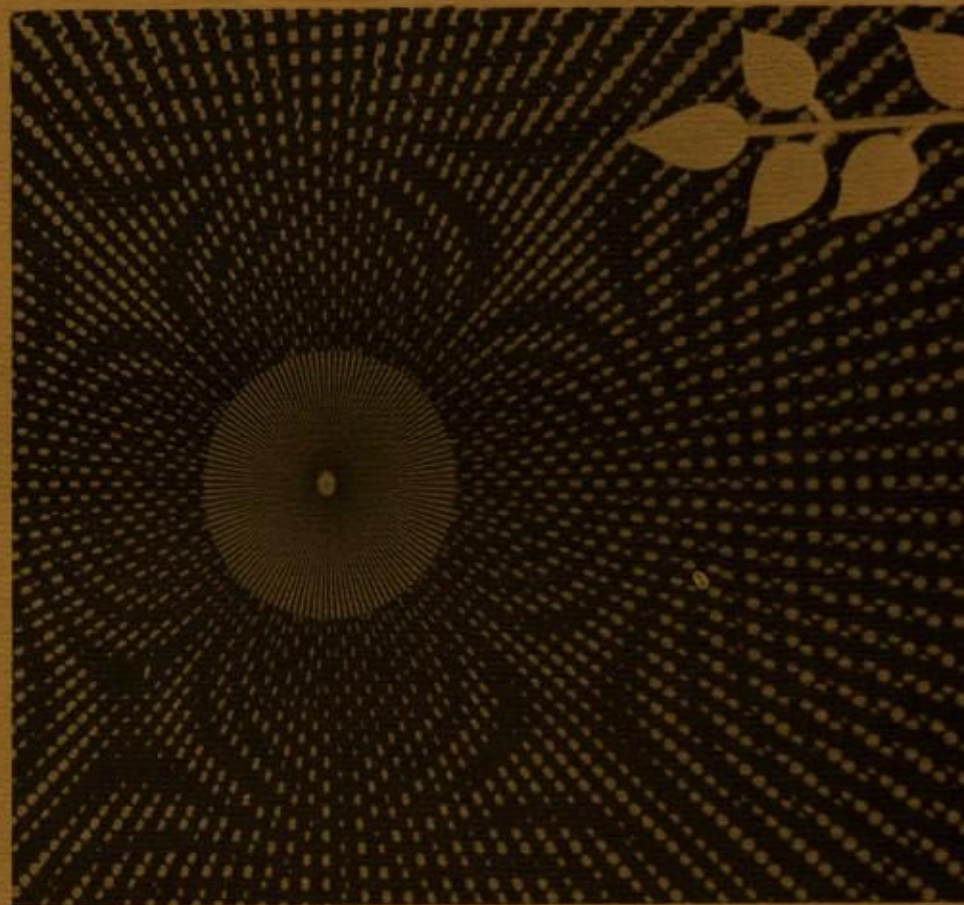

*Come writers and critics
Who prophecies with your pen
And keep your eyes wide
The chance won't come again
And don't speak too soon
For the wheel's still in spin
And there's no tellin' who
That it's namin' for the loser
Now will be later to win
For the times are a 'changin'.*

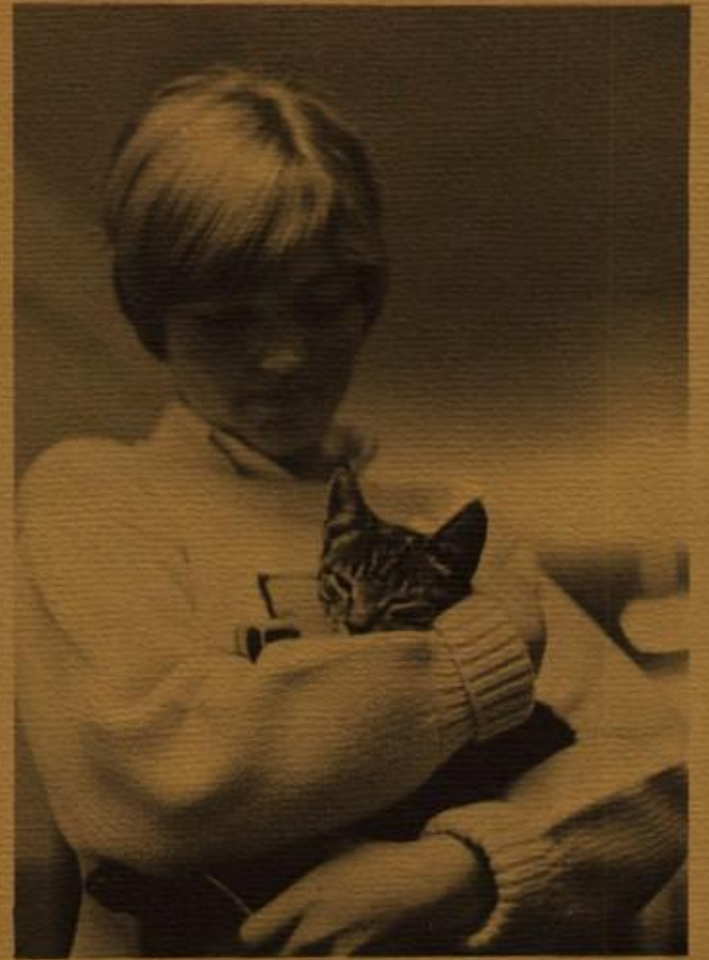

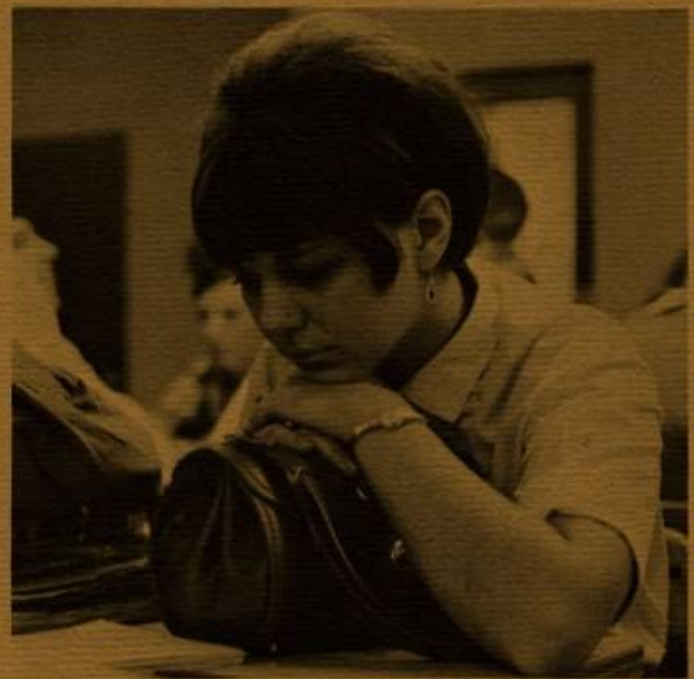

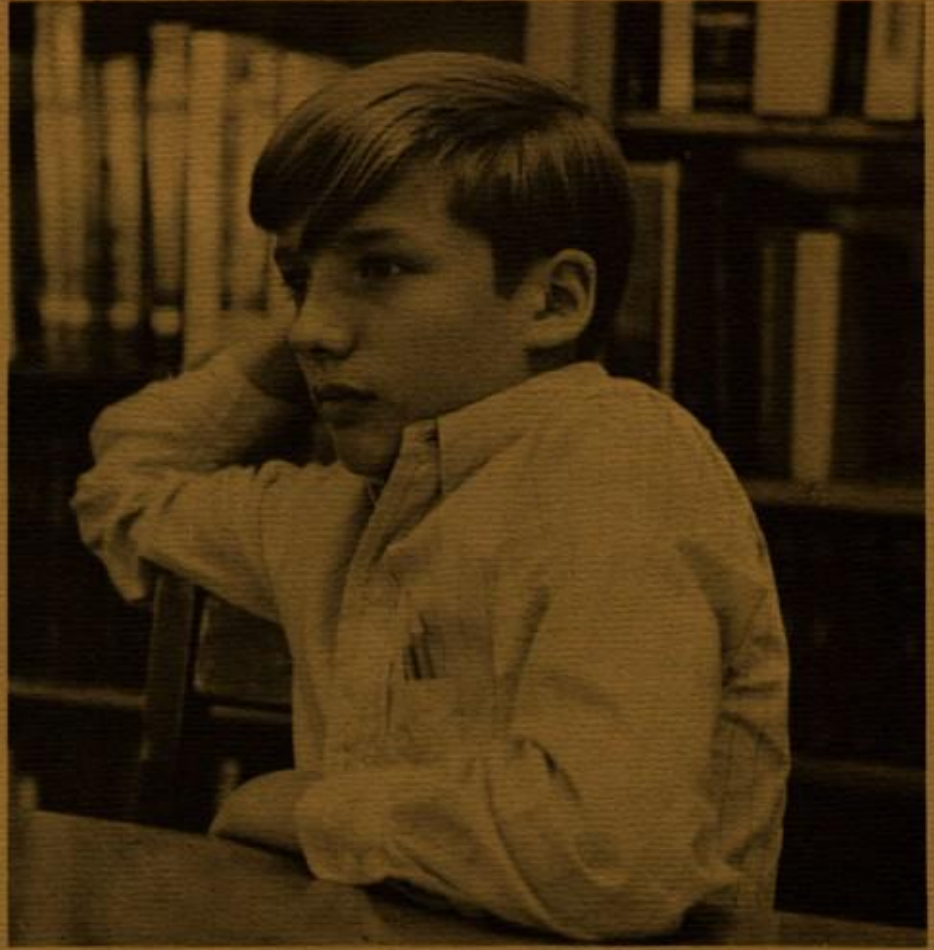

Come senators, congressmen
Please heed the call
Don't stand in the doorway
Don't block up the hall
For he that gets hurt
Will be he who has stalled
There's a battle outside
And it's ragin'
It'll soon shake your windows
And rattle your wall
For the times are a'changin'.

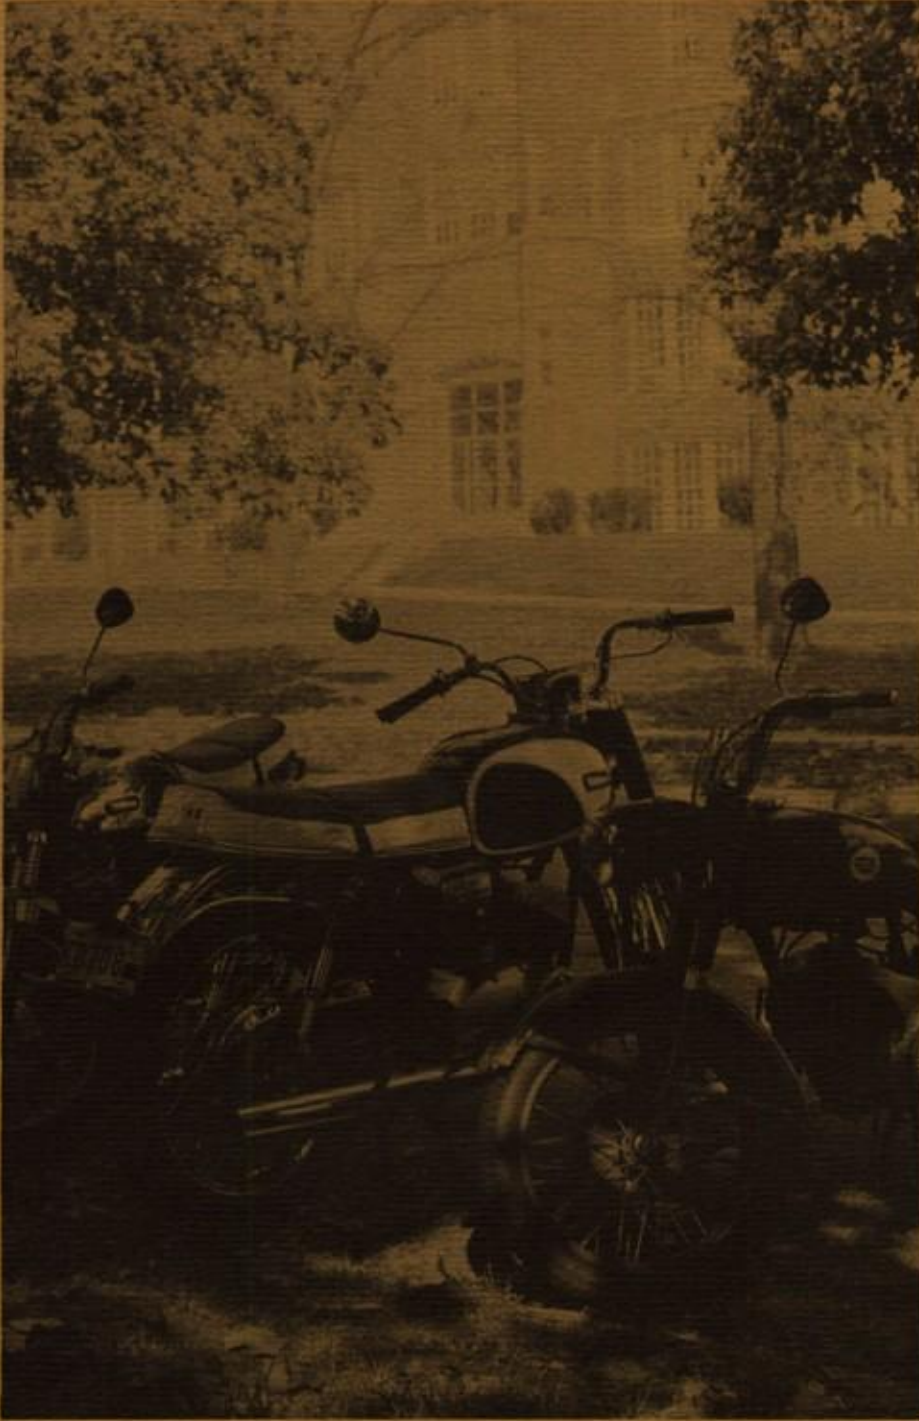

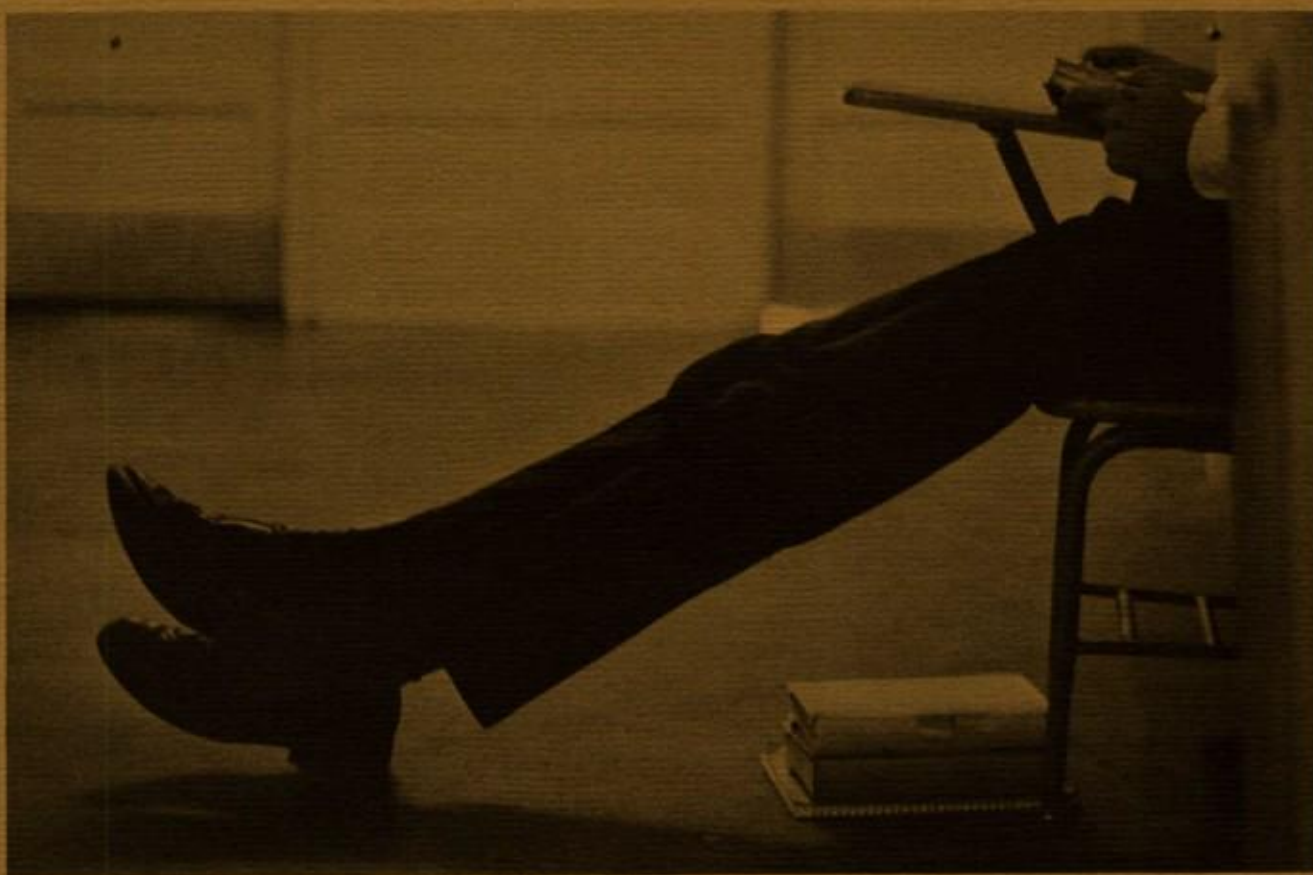

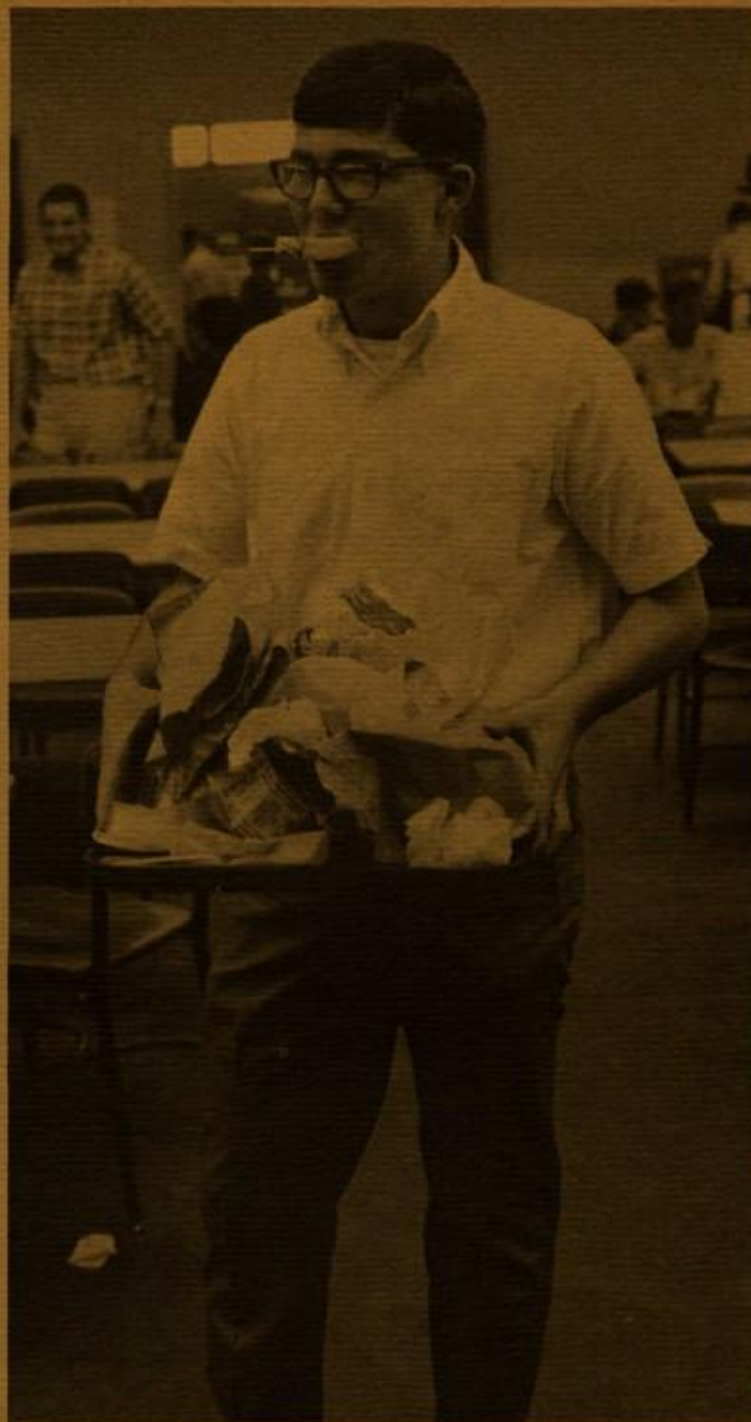

*Come mothers and fathers
Throughout the land
And don't criticize
What you can't understand
Your sons and your daughters
Are beyond your command
Please get out of the way
If you can't lend your hand
For the times are a'changin'.*

The faculty's attitude toward education to a large extent decides the fate of a school. In order for a course to be challenging and modern, a teacher must be willing to forego the rigid tradition and experiment with changing procedures and new viewpoints.

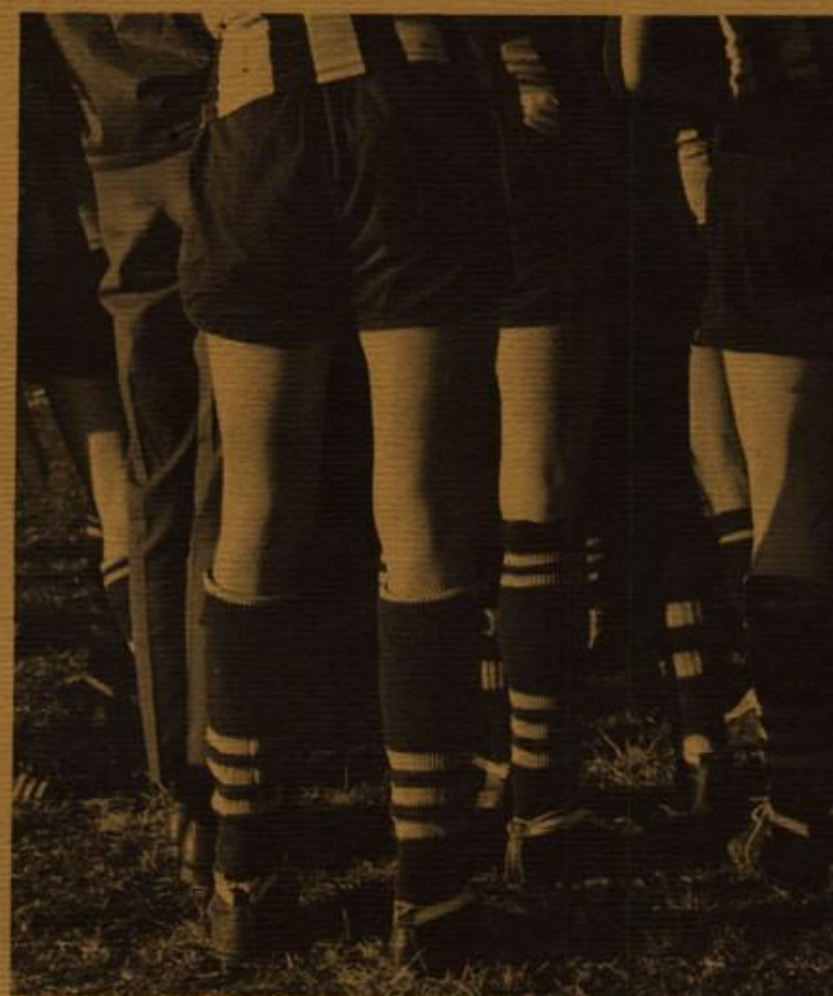

More than a liberal mind characterizes the superior teacher, however. He must also have the loyalty to tomorrow's generation which makes him willing to sacrifice long hours. He must be a study in patience, willing to explain and re-explain a small, uninspiring bit of material anticipating eventual recognition. Most of all, he must have enough foresight to see the fruits of his labor before they are visible to anyone else—in today's inept novice, tomorrow's leader in technology.

We, the class of 1967, think we have found a teacher worthy of this description. Therefore we dedicate the Garneteer to you, Mr. Tischler.

Board's decisions today influence the patterns of tomorrow.

Few students realize the importance of Dr. Leonard B. Irwin, man behind the scenes. Within his office, he acts as coordinator and administrator of affairs and carries out his duties as Superintendent of Schools. Through his efforts, the needs of the high school are brought to the attention of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education is a group of doctors, teachers, and engineers who somehow find time to discuss the problems of increased enrollment, the need for more advanced courses, and improvement to the school itself. In addition, the members have the difficult task of finding and hiring new teachers and passing the school budget. The students have noted the progress instituted by the Board, and hope for even better things to come.

MR. BUCHER

MR. GAMBLE

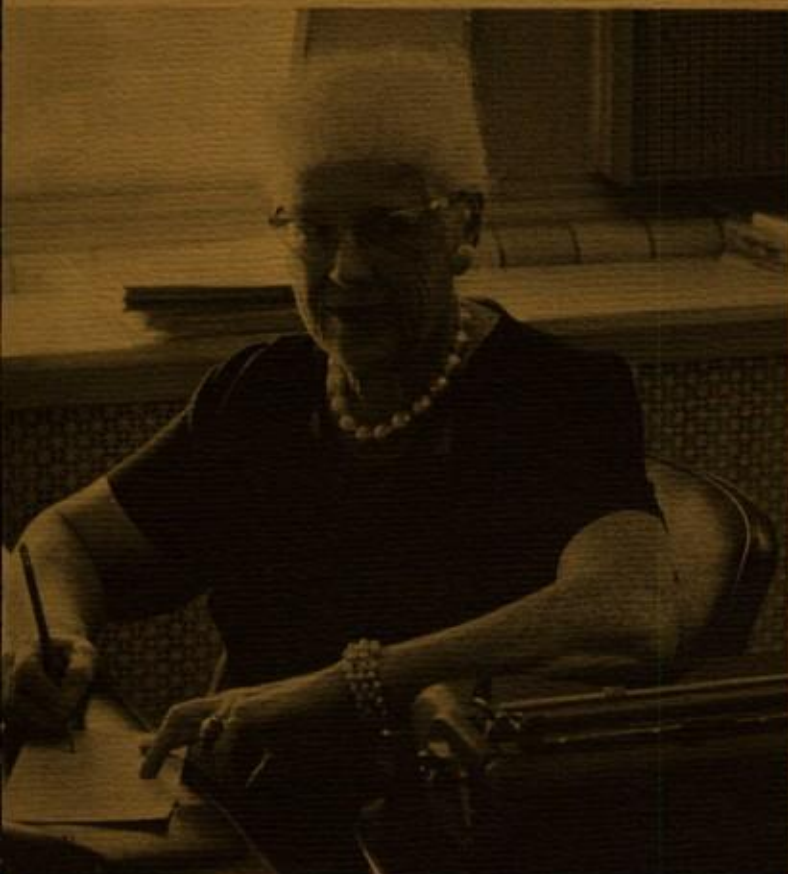

Principals serve through involvement in student life.

Our ubiquitous principal, Mr. Bucher, can be seen mingling among the students and teachers in any part of the school. A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and Columbia University, he has completed his third year as principal at 3HS. Mr. Bucher has total responsibility for the high school, but his job deals primarily with instruction, curriculum, and the program. Seniors may return years from now to find him still meandering through the halls in a ceaseless effort to serve students and teachers in all phases of school life.

MISS BOONE

Mr. Gamble, our good-natured vice-principal, has degrees from Bucknell, Rutgers University, and is presently working on a doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania. As vice-principal, he must advise the Senate and Pep Club, assist the principal, see that school rules are observed, and keep student morale high. With his many duties, seeking Mr. Gamble in his office is sometimes useless, but a student who needs him can find him instantly by cutting class or smoking in a lavatory.

MRS. WHITING

MISS HOSKINS

Guidance focuses on the future

Change is a fundamental aspect of the philosophy in the Guidance Department. In accordance with this aspect this year's major change is the replacement of Miss Hoskins by Mrs. Hawksworth as the department head. With assistance from Mr. Zubrack and Mr. Lockwood, individual counseling is available to all students. A new policy of assigning counselors on an alphabetical basis enables the counselors to acquaint themselves better with the student as he progresses from class to class, regardless of changes in course.

Technological changes are foreseen to handle clerical tasks that now limit the counselors time.

As students grow in experience, their attitudes and aspirations often change. It is the hope of the Guidance Department to facilitate these developments in the students at Haddon Heights.

MRS. HAWKSWORTH

MR. LOCKWOOD

MRS. CRAVEN

MRS. TUNIS

Librarian and nurses encourage mental and physical well-being.

The dusty old books in the library welcomed Mrs. Tunis, our new librarian, who came like a whirlwind, blowing away cobwebs, re-arranging books, and instituting countless changes to improve library service. New shelves reduce crowding and make room for new art books and encyclopedias. Our ambitious librarian foresees a record library and paperback book store for 3HS.

Mrs. Craven acts as clerical assistant and helps Mrs. Tunis maintain discipline in the library.

For the unfortunate victim who becomes ill or wounded during school hours, there are two cheerful ladies in white to offer him first aid and moral support. Besides administering medical advice, Mrs. Borchers and Mrs. Sandman maintain a busy schedule of teaching freshman health classes and junior first aid classes while tending to piles of vital statistics for all the Haddon Heights Student Body. To further complicate matters, the industrious R.N.s must travel back and forth during the day in order to supervise the entire Haddon Heights health system.

"Literature makes us think, makes us wonder, makes us feel more deeply."

The approach to English from time immemorial has been a chronological dissection of literature from ancient to modern times. This method of study has had limitations in that it has focused the attention more on archaic styles than on means of creative expression today. Due to the progressive efforts of the department's chairman, Mrs. Martha Dederich, the trend in 3HS is now an attempt to adapt English study to a humanities approach. Other creative art forms are being incorporated into the courses in the hope of promoting more vivid self-expression.

One concrete result of the new thinking has been the publication of a literary magazine. The selections included essays, poems, short stories and ballads chosen on a competitive basis, from all English and creative writing classes. Art students illustrated the magazine utilizing their own interpretations.

Another highlight was the series of John F. Kennedy Memorial Lectures. Four distinguished speakers discussed varying topics pertaining to the humanities—among them philosophy, poetry, and fiction. Selected classes attended the lectures which applied to their basic paths of study.

Audio-visual aids alleviated the routine classroom sessions by adding some spice to Homer and Shakespeare.

As travel becomes easier and international relations more important, our foreign language department moves ahead to meet modern needs. This year the department became quadri-lingual with the addition of German to the curriculum. Now students can progress from beginning grammar exercises to literature study with four years of Spanish, French, German, or Latin. Modern language teachers now stress oral and visual methods in their teaching, hoping to encourage fluency. Mrs. Troutman and Miss Stites teach German with the help of Audio-Lingual materials, which utilize dialogues and records, and the Spanish department plans to convert to A-LM next year. The French section added new records (in French naturelment) and now has access to the Camden County film library. We do not mean to slight the Latin department, but we can report no progress. To quote Miss Stites, "Latin hasn't changed in a hundred years."

"What is remembered is never lost."

History, to the average student, implies memorization of trivial facts. But the value of past events is not blind collection of names and dates; rather practical application to similar modern circumstances. The Social Studies Department, under the direction of Mr. Lentz, endeavors to teach a fundamental understanding of national and world history, plus a basic inspection of economic and social problems.

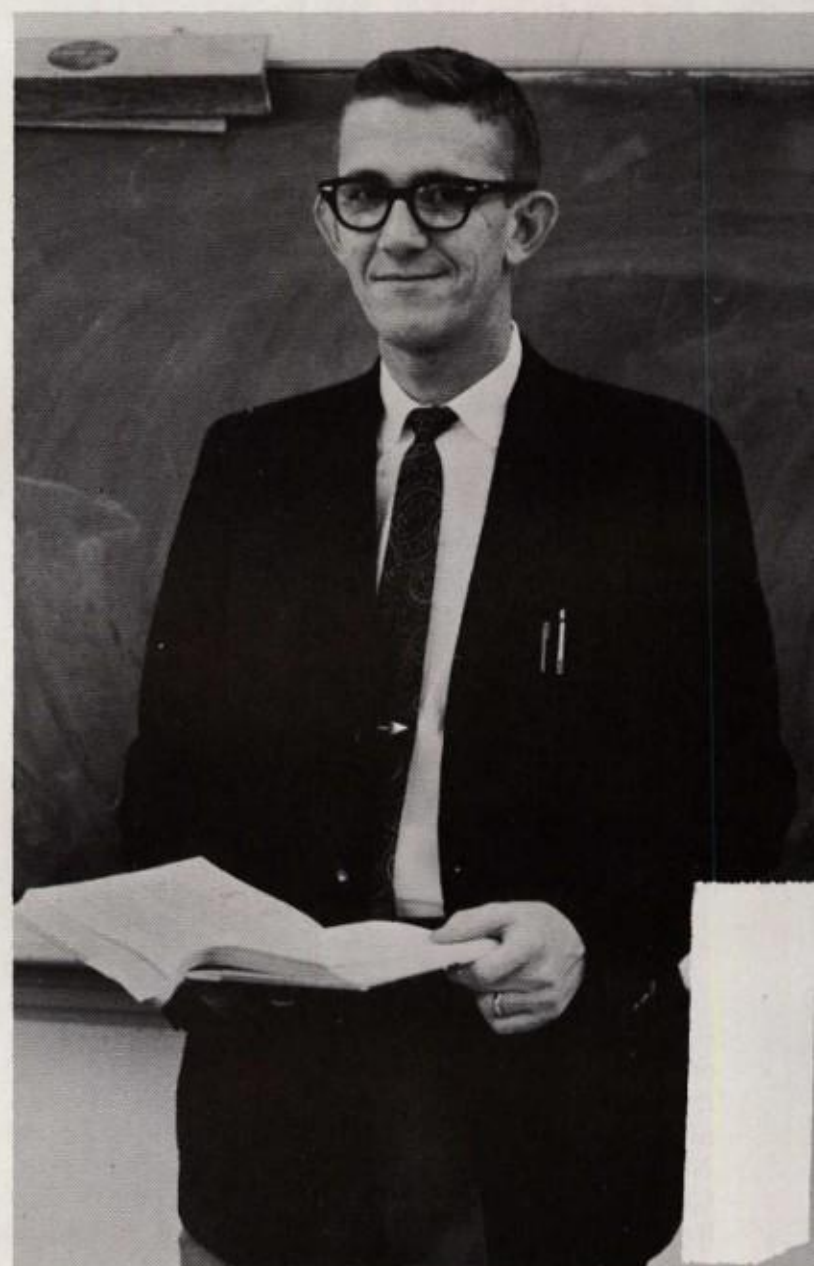

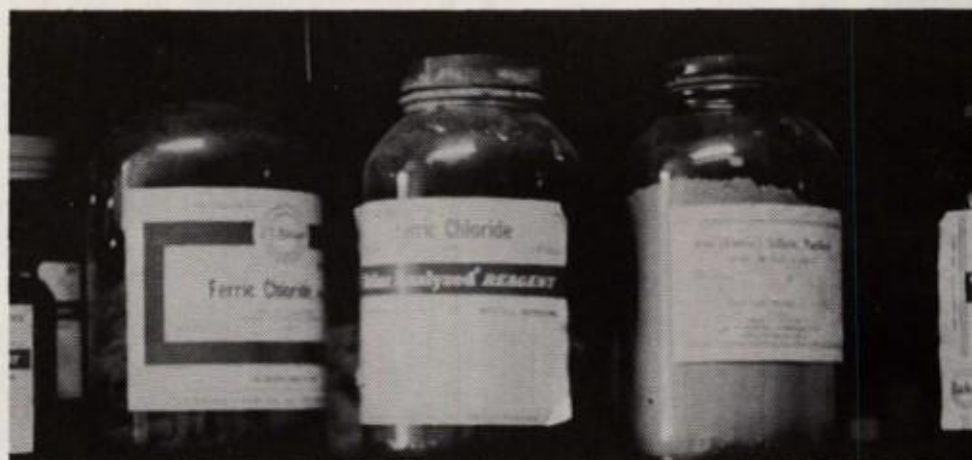

U.S. History I now encompasses events from Plymouth Rock to Appomatox Courthouse, but textbooks emphasizing the era after the Civil War are a possibility for next year. The Senior course is not thus confined, as both capitalistic economy and structure and functions of democracy are probed. An important change this year is the transfer of classes each semester between Mr. Lentz and Mr. Palo, each clarifying certain aspects of the course.

Mr. Moyer's World History Classes have gained in not only accumulating facts but learning of the philosophy and attitudes of the times studied.

"Science is dependent on human motivation."

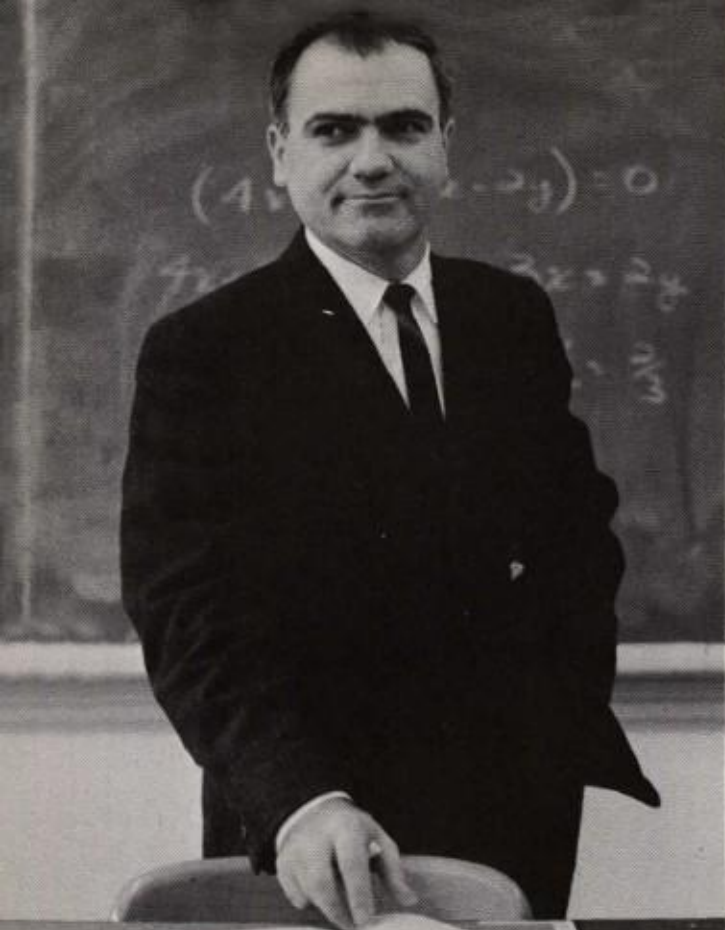

No one can say that 3HS isn't trying to keep up with the scientific world. Under the auspices of Mr. MacGregor, the Science Department has initiated changes and new programs in the past year with plans for years to come. The most noticeable change this year was the new Physics and Advanced Math teacher, Mr. Foster. New courses include Advanced Chemistry, which will alternate with Advanced Biology, and a freshman lab course in Earth Science. The Department may introduce a Consumer Science course to replace Senior Science and a summer enrichment course in biology. The Junior School benefited from a math-science lab and demonstration lecture aimed at encouraging a student's early study of science. Of course, teachers toured various scientific plants to learn to apply studies to today's work in science.

A last note for seniors: plans were made to physically renovate the entire Science Department next year.

Business Department prepares students for successful commercial careers.

Vital to any enterprising aspirant in today's business world is a diversified preparatory education in secretarial and commercial subjects. The Business Department gives financially minded students a comprehensive vocational background for their future careers, whether they choose to become secretaries, bookkeepers or accountants.

Stenography, typing, and bookkeeping introduce students to the skills required in order to withstand the pressure of the competitive commercial system. Past records have proved that the sound curriculum has given Heights students excellent chances for rapid advancement.

One of the most beneficial opportunities offered is the work program. Through actual participation in a business situation the girls gain experience as well as monetary compensation.

The college preparatory students are not entirely overlooked, the rudimentary skills of typing and notehand, sponsored by the Business Department, are offered in order to help the student adjust to the lecture system he will encounter in college.

Line and form acquire meaning.

Arts have taken a major role in the school's curriculum as an expression and development of students' innate abilities. Mrs. Waldrop's assistance enables both art teachers to devote more time to the creative direction of individual students with the aid of facilities literally doubled by the new room. Art enthusiasts may now major in art to prepare them for futures in the world of paints and sculpture. Industrial arts provide invaluable prevocational experience to students with manual talents. New equipment in the shop and new desks in the mechanical drawing room provide basic tools for development of skills. In addition to the elementary freshman course, upperclassmen may major in Industrial Arts. Although alternately criticized and praised, modern art serves as example for the spirit of change in the Arts at 3HS.

Special courses offer dimension and depth.

Despite the increasing preoccupation with academic subjects, the need for a well-balanced curriculum must not be neglected if students are to be genuinely educated. Through the persistent efforts of Mrs. Kelley, all students are exposed to the aesthetic dimensions of music—classical and contemporary. Freshmen take a cursory look at the origin and development of melody and rhythm through the ages. For students who demonstrate interest and talent, the choir and glee clubs allow active group or individual participation. The aspects of musical composition, chord progressions and other technicalities are taught to the dedicated instrumentalists of Mr. Darby's music theory course.

The homemakers of tomorrow receive some practical training in needed culinary and sewing skills as freshmen. If they appear to be domestically inclined, they may continue with home economics as a major in their upperclass years.

The future belongs to the physically fit.

Mr. Hoff, Director of Athletics, tries to transform frail and flabby Freshmen into sound and solid Seniors through four years of a rigorous gymnastics program. In the frosty chill of fall, the students shiver out to the field to warm up playing hockey, soccer, or football. After Thanksgiving, gym classes retreat to the indoors to sprain necks on backward rolls, bruise legs on the parallel bars, burn hands on the ropes, and fall off the balance beam. In the spring, athletes in first period gym fumble baseballs or softballs in frozen fingers or numbly trot the circle of muddy cinders. Students in eighth period gym roast through similar physical tortures.

Though Mr. Hoff, Mr. Briegel, Mr. Hurley, Mr. Masenheimer, Miss Hinke, and Mrs. Wallen sometimes appear to be heartless drill sergeants or sadistic ogres, they have made noticeable strides towards destroying the image of the flabby American.

Varsity Football was overpowered, but undaunted

Overpowered, but undaunted, the Garnet gridders fought to a 3-6 record in '66. The crowds cringed as the bones crunched when our team faced monsters on squads like Woodbury and Collingswood. But we got some revenge - Jim McDermott saw to that. The Garnets beat Eastern Regional, 20-13, Washington Township, 26-19, and Audubon, 12-7. Both the Washington Township and Audubon games were "come-from-behinders". It's been a long time since any Heights team caught up and surged ahead in any game. In most games, Jeff McCourt provided the launcher and Don Moore the target for the missiles that scored our points.

Even Mr. Panesis was surprised at some of the great plays our team made in its plans for devastation. By pushing his loyal machines to their limits in each game and concerning them only with that game, he drove them to their best performances possible. With the spirit, determination, and experience of the returning lettermen, the Garnets have an even better chance of improving their Colonial Conference standing — next year.

Soccer, a comparatively new and upcoming sport at Heights, entered into its second season of interscholastic competition. Scheduled to play some of the toughest teams in South Jersey, the soccer men, under the command of Coach William Connors, bolstered themselves to face their adversaries. The outstanding players were seniors Dave Wilson, Tim Schlener, and goalie Paul Stohner tightening the defense, while Perry Stull, Dave Schlener and junior Jim Cavey backed the offense. Putting forth a concentrated effort toward the final objective victory, the team terminated the season with a 5-3-2 record. Tim Schlener proved to be the teams most valuable member. Next year's returning lettermen Monty Boyer, Jim Rayser, and Al Davidson should provide a strong nucleus toward Coach Connors' hope for a future soccer league.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Through the conscientious coaching of Mr. Wallen and Mr. Gillum and the team's own persistence and stamina, this year's cross country team boasts a victorious 8-2 record. The hill and dale men captured fourth place in the Colonial Conference meet and positioned sixth in the South Jersey Sectional competition. In the New Jersey State meet, the team's own Frank Garaguso and Russ Jackson clinched honorable sixteenth and twenty-sixth places, respectively. One of the season's major events was Frank Garaguso's record-breaking run of 11 minutes, 35 seconds at Haddon Township's course. Although the victors are losing two top runners, Frank Garaguso and Phil Feldman, next year's ranks will be filled by capable underclassmen, Russ and Len Jackson, Bucky Purdy, Bob Knorr, and Dave Miller who hope to continue Height's successful cross country record.

Seniors Linda Cranmer, Rosemary De Martini, and Jean Abbett demonstrated their "aggressiveness" and

Grapplers gain district honors

The wrestling team earned the best season (9-4-0-) in its short history this year, under the direction of head coach Mr. Fred Masenheimer, succeeding in taking a third place team position in the district tournaments. Hopes are high for next year, too, as J.V. coach Mr. Lazevnick and Frosh coach Mr. Hurley have done an outstanding job in training underclassmen. The team will lose only four seniors this year — 136 lb.

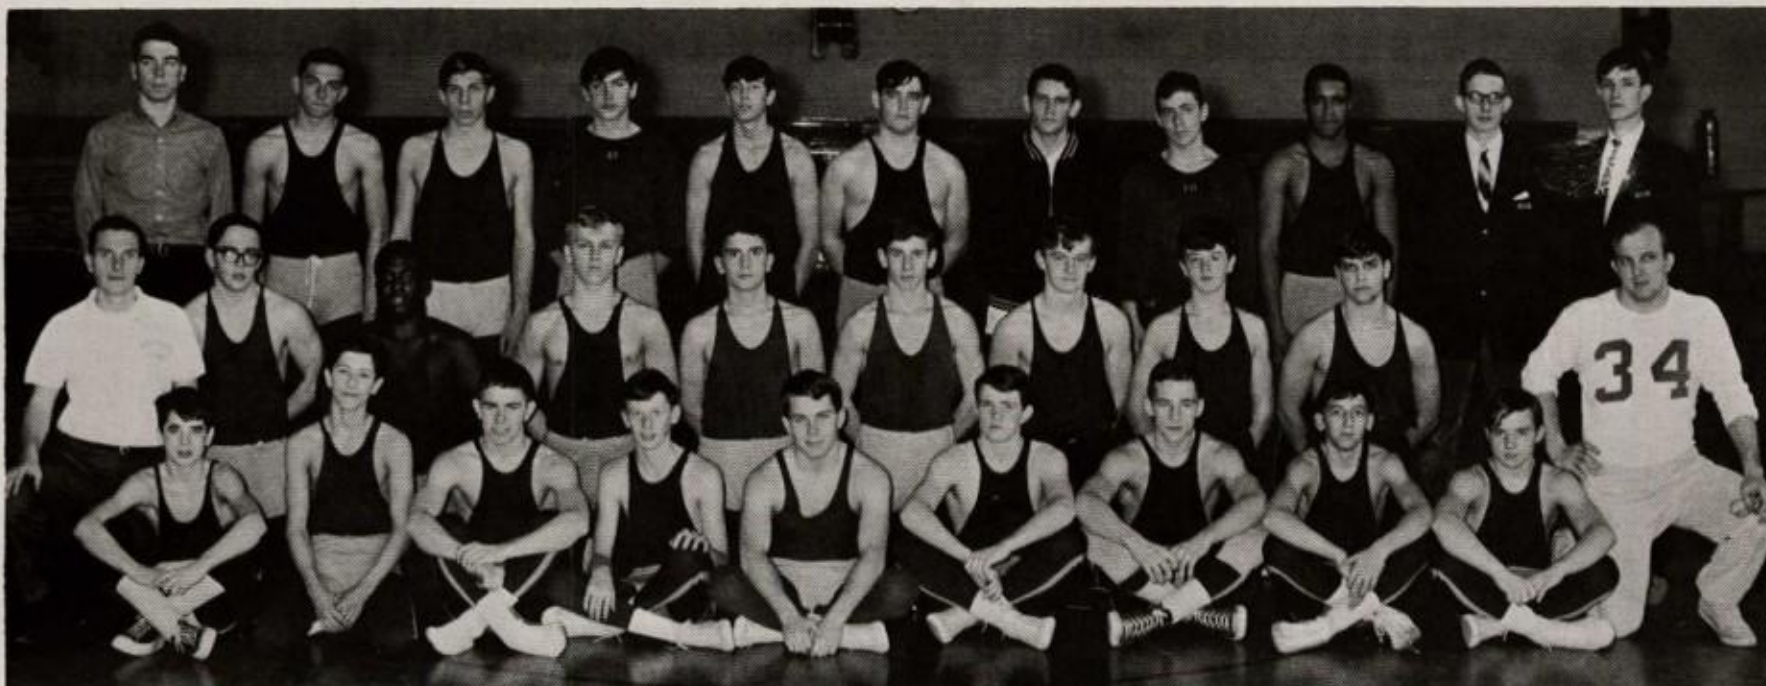

Joe Johns, 141 lb. Tom Seibert, 157 lb. Mike Dunn, and 168 lb. Greg Monokian, along with Jim McDermott, who suffered an injury during the season. In district competition, the grapplers gained seven medals. Third place positions were won by Bruce Maser, Scott Grier, Jim Vandever, and Jim Gunethoer, while Norm Johnson, Joe Johns and Tom Seibert earned district championships.

Yes, it has been a tough season for the Garnets and for first year coach Mr. Wallen. The Garnets who battled to a 11-12 season have suffered many heart-breakers, but in contrast have produced several bright spots in their campaign. Said Coach Wallen, "Our two biggest high-lights were beating Triton Blue in the Christmas Tournament and our 18-point victory over Audubon. But then our disappointments were losing to Audubon in our second meeting, and our losses to Eastern and Haddonfield"

The Golden Garnets closed out their home court play with a devastating 68-57 triumph over Haddon Township.

In retrospect, Mr. Wallen Said, "We're a lot better than our record indicates, but we just couldn't get enough momentum going. We'll be a lot tougher next year."

Girls' varsity basketball succeeds with 9-3 record.

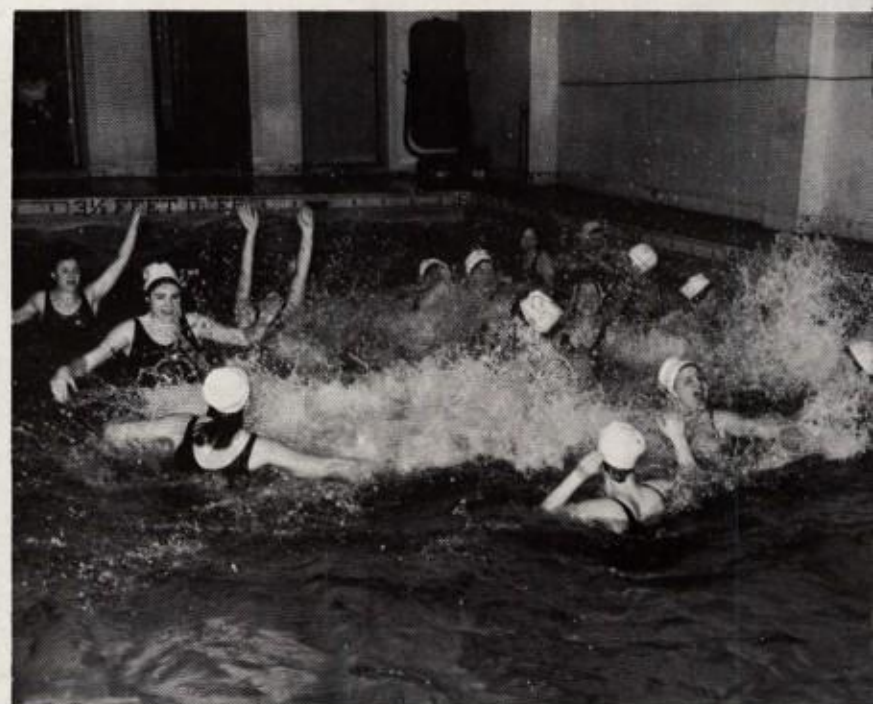

The team spirit, combined with smooth athletic ability, burned a path of victory for both Varsity and JV teams. The Varsity team averaged 41 points per game, with outstanding games such as the one with Audubon, a 54-37 victory. Linda Cranmer guarded with superior ability along with Esther Brown, Melinda Anderson, and Linda Davidson. Sharp-shooting Sue Stevenson was high-scorer with Sue Lescure second and Barbara Gesnaker third. Carol Priestly was also a skillful forward.

The JV team scored exciting victories with a final 10-2 season. Guards Jean Eklund, Donna Rushin, and Janet Venables contributed to the success. Forwards Helen Conaty (high-scorer), Cathy Colgan, and Janet Gear scored the shots that led to frequent victory.

From December through February the boys' swimming team has struggled to overcome its handicap of only two weekly practices and has produced a commendable 5-4 overall record. Outstanding individual strokeers include co-captains Bill Beck in freestyle and John Meakins in backstroke. Steve Miller leads in diving, with juniors Paul Roth in breaststroke, and Mike Bosworth in the individual medley. Coach Louis Tischler credits the year's high scorer Carl Marriott with the title of best all-around swimmer. Despite the loss of nine seniors, next year's prospect for another successful season is favorable.

Did you ever notice those slightly water-logged girls that arrived at the school at six or seven every Monday and Tuesday evening in a broken-down bus? They were the members of the girls' swimming team, better known as "Mollie's Mermaids". As you have probably guessed, their coach was Mrs. Wallen.

The team had a successful winter, led by senior swimmers Marion Tischler, Nancy Taraschi, and Becky Donnan. Record-breaking underclassmen were Debbie McCallum, Jean Page, Leslie Marriott, Diane Meldrum, Ellen McGarvey, and Patrice McDermott. We also can't forget the two Varsity divers Terry Colgan and Dianne Petty.

With many of these girls returning next year, the '68 season should be promising. Perhaps they will be able to break some of the outstanding record times they set themselves this season.

Horsehide takes bad bounces.

The scores that the baseball manager copies into the record book don't begin to tell the whole story about the Garnet team. Scores don't consider the sacrifices the ball players make for hours of practice or the determination with which they face their opponents. Look the scores over but remember that behind them is more than disappointment — the spirit which keeps the team alive from season to season.

Five lettermen from 1966 return with optimism for 1967. Al Bennard, John Marne, Jeff McCourt, Paul Stohner, and Wayne Valerio. The leading hitter was Al Bennard with a batting average of .375. With promising underclassmen emerging from sophomore and freshmen teams, Coach Norman Hoff looks forward to a season of due improvement.

April brings spring fever and softball

After a promising start, the girls softball teams coached by Miss Hinke and Miss Westermaier proved to be both brilliant and mediocre. The varsity team was paced by Connie Cummins, Linda Davidson, pitcher Barbara Gesnaker, Nancy Lent and Sue Lescure. The highlight of the season was the game with Haddonfield in which 5 runs were made in the sixth inning. Commendable J. V. players were Ramona Banks, Ruth Fehlinger, Janet Gear, and Nancy Taraschi.

Garnet yeomen take sure aim

What talented archers are stringing their bows in yonder clearing? Is it Robin Hood with his merry men? Pretty close — it's Miss Henry and her merry troupe. Again this year the loyal band was out for a championship season. Every day they could be seen practicing with their rare skill — nothing less than bullseyes. Perfection was the aim, and the loyal troop pledged not to let their fearless leader down. They didn't.

BHS cindermen set pace in track and field

Coached by Mr. Lentz, the track team enjoyed an extremely successful season. The team was undefeated in the Duel and Triangular Meets and also won both the Colonial Conference and the Camden County Championships. Dave Reiss, an outstanding member, won third place in the National contest in California. He scored 137 points during the season. Charlie Gibson, high scorer with 138, also placed ninth in the national javelin throw. Zannie Richardson accumulated 130 points during the season. Seniors Carl Marriott, half mile, Phil Feldman, mile, and Zannie Richardson provided the nucleus for the '67 team. Because Bob Kille and Jin Fetterman exceeded the age limit, they were not able to participate in the new season.

PEP CLUB

School spirit has been a topic of concern at HHS this year. One answer to the need for enthusiasm has been a loyal pep club. Their members back our athletes with lively cheers at many sports events. Through afternoon and night rallies and colorful posters, students have been encouraged to "get that feeling".

The advertising club attends to various financial matters which are necessary if our school activities are to be successful. For instance, the ADV members are behind the scenes selling programs at the football game and recruiting ads for the Scribe. Mr. Branin sponsors their activities.

Once again the instrumental music department, to the rhythm of Mr. Frank Darby's baton, serenaded the Haddon Heights students on many occasions.

The band, directed by student conductor Bob Thomas, provided half-time entertainment at football games, inspiration at pep rallies and victory parades, and accompaniment at graduation ceremonies. It also performed at two concerts in the course of the year.

The orchestra, as always, greeted us with the Star-Spangled Banner and apropos theme music at assemblies and entertained at the intermissions of our two plays. The dance band added a special touch at several social functions and competed in the annual dance band contest. Outstanding senior members included Janice Barger and Walt Blenderman.

Under the watchful eye of President, Carol McCann, another year of stamping books, distributing permits, and straightening shelves has ended. Confronted with physical improvements and high premium on efficiency, this year's council members have responded with new diligence. What keeps these girls so serene and good-natured amid crowded study halls and students clamoring for magazines? Perhaps they are thinking of those fringe benefits — such as the yearly trip and refreshments after the meetings. Seriously though, without the help of its thirty able workers, the library might well exist in a constant state of chaos instead of a refuge for reading or studying.

Our political science club was a recent innovation. United through an interest in the world around them, its members participated instead of viewing from afar. For instance, they took a traffic survey at a hazardous intersection and submitted it to the governing body for possible action. In a few more years, we may find the names of these members appearing on our voting rosters.

The Literature Through Discussion Club, in its second year, has maintained its reputation as the school's most uninhibited group. Under the direction of Mrs. Schaffzin and president Ruth Karl, interested students discuss vital questions of modern society as expressed in books chosen by the members. This year's topics came from Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, Twain's recently uncensored Letters from the Earth, and other novels and plays.

The French Club, called Le Cercle Français by its members, usually meets about once a month. Sponsored by Mrs. Bottorf, the club engages in such activities as viewing slides and hearing talks by foreign students or those who have travelled abroad, often meeting jointly with the A.F.S. Club. This year's president, Arlette Mellul encouraged actual speaking and conversation by asking members to memorize and recite the American Pledge of Allegiance in French and by discussing special events and amusing happenings in French.

Behind the scenes at every assembly, concert, or play, members of the Stage Crew work lights, coordinate music, supply props, and trip over hidden prompts. Before each production, the members work for several weeks in dusty bluejeans and mottled sweatshirts, building sets and painting everything, even each other and (would you believe?) Mr. Lavell, their sponsor. By some miracle, the sets are always finished in time for the actors to take over the work and the applause.

The orator had spoken. His point was made and made well. The author of the golden words? Dirkson? Kennedy? No, an eloquent member of the Haddon Heights Debating Team. This year's talkers have proven their talents against neighboring schools. They achieved a season victory, bring the laurels to 3HS. Undoubtedly they are following in the footsteps of Cicero and Demosthenes.

Every Friday morning first period, the upstairs hall hears strains of "aquí estamos los chicos del Rodeo" mixed with a chemistry lecture. The twenty-eight students in Spanish IV are taking the day off for "el club" with president Elena Aulie, vice-president José Johns, secretary Ruth Karl, and treasurer Margarita Mackey. Besides the muchísimas transparencias, decorations for la Navidad, paying dues, and writing the newspaper, La Acción, the purpose of Spanish Club is to practice speaking the language more fluently.

by President Sharon Wasiluk and sponsors Mrs. Breyer and Mrs. Bridge, FHA members observe and learn the finer points of culinary and sewing skills for future reference.

The members of the Future Teachers of America Club have a common goal — service to future generations through education. It has been said that a teacher cannot be sure where his the newer members are taught to develop their own pictures. The more advanced photographers concentrate on perfecting new techniques.

The Math Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. White, endeavors to investigate how math is applied in science, industry, and social studies. This is also a way for the members to enjoy math without the direct use of textbooks. During the 1966 - 1967 year, the math club members joined the national society of Mu Alpha Theta, to further interest.

Set decorations for Christmas and Spring concerts, posters for school and local functions, pursuits of individual artistic endeavors, and art exhibits in the Philadelphia area, challenged the art club members this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Lyford, President, Jean Abbett, and Vice-President, Sandy Sanderson initiated the club's new constitution and brought a continuous flow of student art work to the school. The most popular exhibit, produced by the Art II Majors, consisted of 50 faculty caricatures.

A tape recorder is needed in room 202. A film is scheduled for an assembly in the auditorium. A member of the A.V.A. Club carries out his responsibility, setting up audio-visual aids equipment in the classrooms. Again this year the A.V.A. Club, under the direction of Mr. Carrieri and the able club president Richard Beatty, was busy transporting and preparing needed equipment for classrooms, taping music for school dances, and operating the intercom system at wrestling meets and football and basketball games.

Perhaps the most radical changes in any organization of our school were those initiated in the Garnet and Gold Society this year. The Constitution Committee completely revamped the out-dated constitution in order to increase the effectiveness of the Society as a student-oriented body. Provisions for selective, reduced membership and a higher code for members (subject to Senate approval) will allow the Society to function, not just exist, in future years.

Wayne Valerio, as president, provided a center of organization at meetings and presented new ideas to the members for their approval or disapproval. Wayne's assistant, vice-president Paul Stohner, backed him up in all duties by carrying some of the work load. The Society provides monitors and raises money for various charities. Rosemary DeMartini, secretary, and Linda Cranmer, treasurer, took care of the paper work and the money raised by the Society. Hopefully, the Garnet and Gold Society will become a stronger base for school service under its new guidelines.

tion about various club functions, the Scribe has the story. The sports page offers photos, detailed reports of all school sports, and a new feature this year, "Olaf's Corner." After careful reading, the Scribe provides an excellent bookcover.

"Freshmen will attain future success."

The Freshman Class is a fine group of individuals who possess a keen awareness of the importance of today's education — not only in the classroom sense, but also through the class activities with which I was privileged to advise and assist.

The class contains many fine leaders who direct the actions of the group toward the goal. By "leaders" I am not only referring to the class officers, but also to all of the "take-charge" people who do so much in sparking enthusiasm among their classmates.

But a class is not made up of all leaders. There are many people that are simply enthusiastic and willing to work, and here lies the key to their success.

If you, in the Freshman Class, can but hold on to this enthusiasm and willingness to work, your destiny will be nothing short of success.

For the Sophs: no advice

For the Sophomore class, I believe my asked for "words of wisdom" are valueless. The advice I might have cannot be advised, nor taught, only inspired. True the teacher or advisor to a class can hope to inspire a class to become an end product which he himself values, but the value I regard most highly is individuality. Therefore by advising, I fear I am being contradictory with my value system.

I'd prefer to just say that I am looking forward to my future associations with this group, which will climax with graduation two years hence. When that day comes, I am confident that I will feel than as I do now, that here is a group of people, who will someday make many positive contributions to society.

Juniors anticipate decisive role.

After an active three-year apprenticeship, the class of 1968 looks forward to assuming their leadership role as the next senior class. Having weathered the economic hazards of candy, light bulbs, fruit cakes, toothbrushes, magazines, plays, and proms, the enterprising juniors anticipate continued success as they embark on their final year of candy, light bulbs, fruit cakes, magazines, plays, proms, yearbooks, and THE TRIP.

Happiness is receiving a yearbook in June. Only a frantic staff of editors can appreciate the hours of writing, typing, layouts, ads, and chaos that try to transfer the spirit of a class onto a printed page. The job this year was tackled by Ruth Karl, Editor-in-Chief. She received moral support and assistance from her editorial staff. Jean Abbett considered the aesthetic angles, Donna Kind the photographs, and Fran Underkuffler the copy blocks which were typed by Linda Bennard. Charlie Sporn counted money and ads, those vital necessities behind the finished product.

A new look in the 1967 Garneteer resulted from the innovations of gold opening pages, reverse printing, and added write-ups. These were only minor changes calculated to keep pace with the trends at Haddon Heights.

Special thanks are extended to Mrs. Guille and Miss Jaffe, our patient literary and business advisors.

We present this yearbook to you the class of 1967 and hope it will preserve your high school memories in years to come.

Striving for some needed improvements in our school and its activities, the Senate once more came to order under its President Doug Steffen and advisor Mr. Gamble. Special concerns this year were the lethargic school spirit and occasional lapses of sportsmanlike conduct among a few spectators. The representative body was influential in improving the caliber of student participation. The senate again served as the students' voice regarding school policy and issues, as well as arranging the customary Student Association drive and the Senate Dance.

DALE AND CHRIS

The friendly, tranquil-dispositioned addition to our Senior class this year was our A.F.S. exchange student, Chris D'Elia. She adapted quickly to life in the U.S. In Montevideo, Uruguay, she had eleven majors a day, and when she returns to her country, she plans to continue her education and become a lawyer.

Chris' American sister, Dale Stearn, has introduced her to a varied school and social life. Among other activities, Chris reigned as queen of the Garnet and Gold Dance.

With enough laughs to keep the audience rolling in the aisles, the comedy Dear Ruth was successfully presented by the Senior Class. Under the direction of Mr. Lavell and student-director, Arlene Huber, the excellent cast put forth time, effort, and long hours to offer a truly lighthearted performance. Mark McCauley, Arlette Mellul, Betty Kelley, and Gaby Lenard united into a not-so-down-to-earth family. Beth Price, Beth Brennan, Russ Meyers, Jerry Strange, Mike Bosworth, and Bill Lingo artfully added to the comical atmosphere.

Mr. Lockwood Leaves Parting Words With Seniors

It has been a pleasure to work with you, the class of 1967. Working in class activities is part of your overall education in civic responsibilities. Although you had your doubts, you came through when it really counted. Your voice was heard when decisions had to be made. May you continue to contribute that effort in the future and may you each achieve the highest degree of self direction.

Sincerely,
George W. Lockwood

*From this hour I ordain myself loos'd of limits and imaginary lines, Going where I list, my own master total and absolute,
Listening to others, considering well what they say,
Pausing, searching, receiving, contemplating,
Gently, but with undeniable will, divesting myself of the holds that would hold me.
I inhale great draughts of space,
The east and the west are mine, and the north and the south are mine.
I am larger, better than I thought,
I did not know I held so much goodness.
All seems beautiful to me,
I can repeat over to men and women You have done such good to me I would do the same to you,
I will recruit for myself and you as I go,
I will scatter myself among men and women as I go,
I will toss a new gladness and roughness among them,
Whoever denies me it shall not trouble me,
Whoever accepts me he or she shall be blessed and shall bless me.*
